Does it matter if my property is listed?

Installation · https://quickline.co.uk/knowledge/does-it-matter-if-my-property-is-listed/

Yes, please make sure you have spoken with your local authority about Listed Building Consent if it is required for your property.

If you are renting, you will also need to get permission from your landlord for the installation.

Please confirm that you have all necessary permissions before placing your order.

Check out this handy article if you want to know more about what happens on an install day?

For any further help, feel free to contact our friendly sales team.