Remembering your Wi-Fi name and password can be difficult, especially if you don't need to enter your Wi-Fi password details regularly. But don't worry, we have a few easy ways to help you get connected. First let's find your Wi-Fi details:

Your Wi-Fi details for our new Zyxel 5601 routers can be found printed on the back of the router, making it easy to find Wi-Fi password information. This is indicated by the purple arrow.

This info is also printed on a small card. This card is slotted in the back of the router, in the same place as the printed info.

- Your Wi-Fi name is the "SSID".
- Your Wi-Fi password is the "Wireless Key"

If you're struggling to enter the password, you can also scan the handy QR code with your mobile device's camera. Most modern smartphones will have this feature allowing you to connect to the network without having to remember Wi-Fi password information! If you're wondering what a QR code looks like, please see the example below:

Please bear in mind you need to scan the unique QR code on your router/card. The image above is just an example.
